On September 6th, 1933, the Orford Free Library and contents burned to the ground.

The origin of the fire was unknown, but had evidently smouldered for hours, and when discovered, the firemen could not enter the building, except one who had on the only gas mask in town.

This building was built over one hundred years ago, after a Town Meeting on February 27, 1832, on the site of the old log school house. Last year another Special Town Meeting was held on October 7th, 1933, and voted unanimously to build a new building similar to the one recently burned, for which purpose $2,000.00 and the insurance on the old building, was appropriated.

The fire was on Wednesday; the Trustees with the aid of the people in town were able to collect 500 books and open on Saturday, the usual day, in an ice cream parlor, the use of which was very generously loaned by Herbert R. Swan. Books are still coming in, and we now have nearly 1,600 books.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board and Citizens of the Orford School District:

I herewith submit my fourth annual report as Superintendent of Schools.

Since my last report Norman P. Sargent of Contoocook was appointed teacher at the Orfordville school. He is a graduate of the Keene Normal School. It is anticipated that a man teacher will be more adapted to this type of school. During the fall a new furnace was installed at this school from funds previously appropriated for this purpose. For some time the water supply has been inadequate and so low that its purity has been questioned. During the fall the supply was irregular and seldom enough to flush the toilets. If these were discontinued, practically a new outside toilet would have to be built, and it seemed advisable to put that money toward a new water supply, and an artesian well was driven on the school grounds, so now the school has a good bountiful supply of water entirely independent of any outside interests. This has been financed out of anticipated surplus funds.

The school room and hall were painted, and an exit cut in the rear for a fire escape. The basement was installed with automatic fire extinguishers. The occupied part of the building is now in first-class shape. By redistribution of fire insurance, and only a slight added expense, the insurance on the Orfordville school building will be increased from $2,200 to $5,000.

The report of the headmaster of the high school appears in this report. The Orford Street building is crowded, particularly in the grades. I would suggest that the advisability of incorporating the 7th and 8th grades in the high school, and limiting the number of the high school, be carefully considered by the Plymouth Normal School, the School Board and Headmaster. This would relieve the congestion upstairs and give the 7th and 8th grades the opportunities for departmental work. Under the present setup there is no possibility of State aid for a third teacher in the grades, and hardly room.

The work of the elementary schools has been carefully checked. It is planned this spring to make a careful survey of the Orfordville school and primary room at the Street, with the assistance of the Department of Education of Dartmouth College.

Owing to anticipated high school enrollment it is necessary to budget $900 more than last year for tuition.

Respectfully submitted,

ALLAN M. McCURDY,

Superintendent of Schools.

To Mr. Allan McCurdy, Superintendent of Schools:

I am herewith submitting my annual report of Orford High School.

The school opened in the fall with an enrollment of 62, divided as follows: 12 seniors, 19 juniors, 13 sophomores, and 18 freshmen. Three weeks later two more entered the junior class. Three have since left school, one going to another State and one being unable to get transportation.

At the present time there are 4 taking the college preparatory course, 35 the English course, and 22 the commerce work.

Eleven were graduated last June, one of whom, Martha Coburn, is now attending Plymouth Normal School.

The school is well supplied with books and other material so that no difficulty is found in adequately covering the required work laid out in the State program. The pupils have access to a number of magazines, some furnished by the State, and some by one of the teachers. Among those which are supplied are The Literary Digest, Time, Review of Reviews, The New Outlook, The Readers' Digest, The Ladies' Home Journal, The American Magazine, The Woman's Home Companion, and The American Observer. The Boston Herald and The Boston Globe are also brought to school each day for the use of the pupils.

Current events form an important phase of the work in such subjects as history, economics, and sociology. Regular reading and reporting on magazine articles are carried on in connection with the English work.

Each year a report of the work done in each class has to be sent to the State Department of Education. A letter was received a short time ago from one of its members commenting favorably on the work done beyond the requirements in some of the courses.

The pupils are showing a good attitude of interest and co-operation. Mornings when the temperature averaged from 20 to 40 degrees below zero, almost every pupil was present, some of them having to drive or walk a long distance.

Much interest is shown in athletics. Both the boys and girls have a basketball team, and in the spring a baseball team.

An art club has been organized, which meets one period a week. A number of the pupils show some real ability in that line.

In the fall the seniors, assisted by a few members of the junior class, presented a play, "The Gay Pretenders," on which the proceeds were about $60.

At the beginning of the winter term plans were made for holding a winter carnival on January 19th. Committees of both boys and girls were elected for ice and snow sports, and candidates were chosen by the school to run for Carnival Queen. The committees planned all of the sports and made the necessary preparation for them to be held, such as building the ski jump, laying out the course for the cross country run, and clearing the snow from a section of the lake.

Contestants in the sports were present from the following schools: Bradford and Thetford Academies, Orford High, and Fairlee and Orford Grammar Schools. Much interest was shown in this phase of the carnival.

In the evening the carnival ball was held in Fairlee Town Hall, at which Marguerite Rogers was crowned queen. Prizes which were donated by business men of Fairlee and Orford were presented by Superintendent McCurdy to the winners of the sporting events. The proceeds, which were about $28, will be used for athletics.

It is felt that the success of the school in many ways is due to the interest and fine spirit of co-operation shown by the citizens of both Orford and Fairlee.

Respectfully submitted,

GLADYS P. TWITCHELL, Headmaster.
